A POLITICAL MOVE.

The Grass Valley Union, a staunch Democratic paper, admits that the only occasion for removing the old Board of Prison Directors and appointing the new, was to change its political complexion, and prepare the way for a new deal in the subordinate positions. It bases this upon the statement of John Boggs, of Colusa, the new President of the Board and the only one of the old Board not removed. Mr. Boggs says the management has been honest and economical and that there is no reason to depart from the general plan of management that has been pursued.

A Third Party.

General Butler said to a Washington friend last Tuesday that he was quite certain that there would be no less than three strong Presidential tickets in the field next year. "There is," said he, "every indication that a strong third party movement is organizing, and politicians, in making up their slates, must not leave this out of their calculations. Two million workingmen will demand a voice in the government, and, in my opinion, they will nominate a candidate for the Presidency next year, and I am satisfied the man they will select will be one on whom the best elements of both parties can unite."

A Confederate Stamp.

A letter, upon which a Confederate two-cent stamp was affixed, passed through the mails at Richmond last Wednesday without being detected by the Postoffice authorities The stamp bore some resemblance to the new one of that denomination just issued by the Government in color, but not in style of workmanship.

Ex-Congressman Woodburn claims the credit of having prevented the Carson Mint from being abandoned. —Austin Reveille.

As Wren, Daggett and Cassidy have been in Congress since Woodburn's term expired, we suppose that what he did in 1874 has kept it going ever since.

Wm. Cressler, of Cedarville, writes to the propt. of the Golden Eagle Hotel to meet at the train and kindly care for his sister, Miss Lydia Cressler, and his cousin, Mrs. Lizzie Lee, who are to arrive from the East to-day on a visit to this land of sagebrush and plenty.

The Tuscarora Times-Review says Mackay's declaration in favor of Jones' re-election will be sad news for the Hessians in the State.

STANFORD'S COLTS.

They Prove Themselves to be World-Beaters.

Ex-Governor Stanford's bay mare Bonita, four years old, trotted a mile against time at the Kentucky Trotting Horse-Breeder's Association meeting Thursday in 2:18¼, beating Jay-Eye-See's four year old time —the best on record until to day—by a quarter of a second. She made the first quarter in 35 seconds, and the half mile in 1:09; the three quarters was not caught. Bonita is owned by ex-Governor Stanford, of California, and is a splendid looking mare, 14 hands 3 inches high. The race was imed by W. L. Simmons, of Kentucky, Hugh Hewitt and J. H. Bush, of Rochester, N. Y.

Governor Stanford has now the credit of owning and raising the colts that have lowered the trotting records at one year old, two years old, three years old, and four years old, viz: Hinda Rose, yearling record, 2:36½, at San Francisco, November 24, 1881; Wildflower, two year-old record, 2:21, at San Francisco, October 22, 1881; Hinda Rose, three-year-old record, 2:20, at Hartford, Conn., October 3, 1883 Bonita, four-year-old record, 2:18¾, at Lexington, Kentucky, October 11, 1883. He is also the owner of Carrie C., who has the fastest two-year-old record (2,27½) made in a race with other horses. She made this record at the State Fair held in Sacrmento last month. Hinda Rose has been placed in retirement until next year, being reserved for the great stakes in Kentucky. She will also be apt to reduce the record made by her stable companion, Bonita, Thursday. The prospects are that it will remain for others of the Governor's colts to reduce the records made by the above named. All of these colts were sired by Electioneer.

Washington Territory.

The annual message of the Governor of Washington Territory is generally an interesting document, because it gives a summary of the resources of the Territory, which is now about to ask admission into the Union. There is a strong current of immigration setting in that direction, and the current has been considerably increased by the great facilities created by the completion of the Northern Pacific Railroad. There are 13,000 Indians in Washington Territory, who occupy fifteen reservations, which contain 7,000,000 acres of the best agricultural land. The population has for some time been quite above the limits required for the admission of a State into the Union, and it is probable that at the next session of Congress, Washington Territory will become a State. A State Constitution has already been adopted. The following summing up of resources by the Governor is to the point:

Forty-five millions of acres of timber, coal, pasture and mountain lands; mines of precious metals, quarries of lime stone, marble, granite, slate, sand stone, and beds of mica; ocean front, and inland salt seas; many lakes and rivers affording thousands of miles of navigable waters, all alive with an hundred varieties of fish, some of them of great value; water powers; a climate of even temperature, and healthful; grand scenery of water and mountains, facilities for manufacturing the staples from our own material, wood, iron, wool and hides; maritime opportunities unsurpassed for internal, coast-wise, and foreign commerce; in a line to absorb the trade of Alaska in fish, fur, cedar and gold; to obtain the largest share from Asia in coffee, tea, opium, porcelain, silks and ivory, all of these are our resources and advantages which will straight way place Washington Territory in the fore front along with the most prosperous countries on the globe.

Sherman Out of Politics.

In conversation with a correspondent at Washington Gen. Sherman said: "I am going out of this office very soon to have rest and peace for the remainder of my days."

"You have had enough then of public life, General?"

"I have. I leave Washington without one single regret."

"But the people talk about you as a Presidential candidate. A number of newspapers have endorsed you for the position of candidate of the Republican party."

"Well, all I have to say about it is, I would not permit my name to be used! What could I get out of politics? I have got all the fame I care to have. I am at the head of my profession in this country, and that's enough for me. I am going out to give Sheridan a chance. His coming in now will give him twelve years command of the army—a pretty equitable division of time between us!"

"To come back to the Presidential subject. Let me ask you one more question, General. If you were actually nominated by the Convention, would you refuse?' "I would certainly; but there is no danger of that, who will or will not be a candidates is always well understood in advance. No sir," said the General with great emphasis, "I won't have anything to do with politics; if the people want a Sheridan, let them take my brother John."

Mormon Growth.

The Chicago Daily News says:

If reliance can be placed on the estimates submitted to the Mormon Conference at Salt Lake City, Saturday, 23,040 new members were received into Mormonism during the past year, many of whom were recruited from the Southern States. It is, however, a little surprising in face of this large accession of numbers, to learn the entire membership of the Mormon Church is but 127,229. This makes the last year's converts amount to 18 10 per cent of the whole number of adherents of the spurious faith, and would indicate, either that the heads of the organization willfully underrated the membership for some unknown cause, or exaggerated the number of new converts. The feature of the Mormon system that was prominently shown at the Conference was the manner in which the creed is planted in territory contiguous to Utah. There are 2,264 Mormons in Arizona and twice as many in Idaho, while the South converts are being settled in Colorado. In this way, it is doubtless intended after a time, to control legislation in these sections. This is a serious matter and has no doubt received the attention that is its due from the General Government

As Judge Thurman took a prominent part in the Ohio campaign and by the logic of his arguments, contributed largely to the success of his party, it ought to bring him prominently to the front as a candidate for President in 1884,—Silver State.

AMERICAN FABLES.

A sunfish, having witnessed the terror of a sailor who came near being nabbed by a shark, at once swam for the vessel and began circling around at a furious rate. While thus engaged a Jack Tar leaned over the rail and scooped him in with a net, with the remark:

"While a shark may eat a sailor there's nothing to prevent a sailor from eating a sunfish."

MORAL:

Never doubt a fish story.

THE SAGE AND THE MOURNERS.

A sage, who was on his weary journey to Wisconsin, came upon a crowd one day and observed a general sadness in all faces.

"Why this gloom?" queried the old man, as he laid down his bundle and felt for the front end of his plug of tobacco.

"Oh Sage, we mourn the death of a good man," was the reply.

"Was he honored?"

"He was."

"Sober, upright, charitable and given to peace?"

"He was."

"Who of you praised and encouraged him in life?" asked the old man, as he looked around him.

A hush fell upon the crowd, and no one replied.

"Praise that cometh after death," whispered the Sage, "does not even cut down the undertaker's bills. Better squander your time sawing wood for his widow."

MORAL:

The widow will be expected to take in plain sewing to support herself.

THE FROG AND THE TRAVELER

A traveler who had taken a seat near a waterfall would have gently enjoyed the mighty roar but for the croaking of a frog near by. At length he rose up in great wrath and assaulted the croaker with a club.

"How inconsistent you are!" cried the abused frog, as he wiped the blood off his ear. "This waterfall makes a million times more noise than I do, and yet you turn upon me!"

"True," replied the traveler, as he threw the fog an oil-skin to keep off the dampness, "but you should remember that the dividing line between grandeur and disgust is drawn at the scrape of a fiddle and the howling of a dog."

MORAL:

It is everything in being a waterfall.

THE THIEF AND THE OFFICER.

One of the finest who had been sleeping on his beat for the last hour was suddenly awakened by the cries of a man in distress.

"What's all this row about?" inquired the officer.

"I have been robbed of a satchel!"

"Describe it."

"I cannot, for it is one I stole myself only half an hour before!"

"Then why this great outcry? You have simply been robbed of what you did not own."

"True, and it is that which hurts. The fellow evidently took me for an honest man!"

MORAL.

It hurts lots of contractors the same way.—Detroit Free Press.

Couldn't Afford It.

Made Honest by Business Principles a Druggist Tells the Square Truth.

"Now, my friend, let's be perfectly frank and candid about this little matter," the druggist said, placing his elbows on his plated showcase and looking his customer fairly in the eye. You have a lame back and want a plaster to put on it. You don't know me, and, judging of human nature as it runs in business, you are afraid I'll humbug you in some way. You may think it an odd statement, but I can't afford to cheat you. Even if I did I haven't the means.

"That's curious. (Oh, my back! I'll take a chair, I guess.) Don't you keep plaster's?"

"Oh, yes, one or two kinds. Once I had shelves full of them—every sort that were ever invented to gull the ignorant and make money for imitators. But I sifted 'em out one by one and now sell principally. They always give satisfaction, and in the end it pays me to sell them in preference to all others."

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS

"Haven't you Allcock's?"

"Yes, but my customers and myself prefe Benson's Capcine—which are quick as electricity, safe as Government bonds and sure as the law of gravitation. The doctors order them, and what is more to the point, I never have heard a complaint from any one who has used them. You can go elsewhere—if your back will bear you out in the operation—and get another and a cheaper plaster, but—"

"Don't talk to me about the money," broke in the comfort-seeking stranger, with some heat. "What's ten or fifteen cents to getting rid of this confounded—oh, Lordy!—this pain and lameness? Let me have one of Benson's Capcine.

That's the real article, is it? with 'the word CAPCINE cut in the body of the plaster.

"You'll be around in a week, straight and strong," added the diplomatic druggist, throwing the money in his cash drawer.

THE NEVADA CADETSHIP

A Chance For All—Competitive Examination.

Gen. Connor's son, who was appointed to the West Point cadetship by Congressman Cassidy, having failed to pass his examination for admission, Congressman Cassidy writes that the vacancy will be filled by competition. The Eureka Sentinel says: "His own words in a private letter to a friend are:" 'My desire is that the boy in Nevada, best developed mentally and physically, shall have it.' The successful applicant in the proposed competitive examination will not be allowed to enter West Point until the beginning of the next term; that is June 14, 1884. This will require a larger range of subjects and a greater extent of study in the test examination at home, which should be, and doubtless will be, of such a thorough nature as to give the victorious competitor a certificate of admission into West Point at once. The requirements for entrance are not many or great, and the additional preparation required in this instance for entering a term ahead can readily be made by at least a dozen bright boys in the Silver State.

The proposed examination, under direction from the War Department, will be conducted by a committee of three appointed by the Congressman, andcomposed of "a practical teacher, a lawyer and a physician." This Committee will be selected from among gentlemen of recognized ability and integrity in their profession. They will subject the candidates for the cadetship to a most rigid test mentally and physically, and there is hardly a doubt but the "best" young man they recommend for the vacancy will get it and fill it very creditably. A similar examination was held at Carson during Mr. Daggett's Congressional term, and the young man sent on to Annapolis first would have stood a brilliant examination in the studies required, but he never reached that test. The examining physician gave way to the appeals of the lad's mother, and resolved a possible doubt as to his physical perfection in her favor. The consequence was that he was rejected in the preliminary examination on the ground of under size and physical imperfections otherwise. To show the excellency of the proposed examination, however, the boy who stood second on the list of candidates in the literary examination, but was a fine physical specimen of young manhood, passed into the Naval Academy without a struggle. He is now honoring Nevada in the unusually high stand he holds in the junior class, being at the head in mathematics, which is about the best general criterion of excellence in scholarship. This is no mean distinction for a little community and so much sneered at as Nevada is.

The place and time at which the competitive examination will come off have not been decided on. Mr. Cassidy intimates that he will endeavor to select the most eligible town and the earliest date advisable, though there is no special haste in this latter respect. The question at any time between now and next June will be whether the applicant can stand the ordinary examination for admission added to the examination for the first term up to June 14 of the first year. Full particulars as to time and place, the details of the examination, its quantity and quality, the names of the examiners, etc, will be published in due time.

This is a splendid prize offered to the young men of Nevada to compete for. As thorough an education can be got at West Point as at any other school in the United States--and generous Uncle Sam bears the entire expense.'

"Christian Comity."

Two weeks since the Rev. A. B. Palmer preached at the Congregational Church a sermon on "Christian Comity" which the church and congregation unanimously desired their pastor to repeat at his earliest convenience. Accordingly, the sermon will be repeated this Sunday evening. Services to commence at 7 o'clock. Everybody invited.

Red Cabooses.

The cabooses for freight trains on the Central Pacific are to be painted a bright metallic red color. Some have already appeared in their new dress. The reason for changing the color from yellow to red is that the latter color makes the car more prominent and can be seen at a long distance, thus lessening the chances of a train running into the freight train from the rear.

DAYTON'S FUTURE.

The Lively Little County Seat Town Of Lyon County.

The Lyon County Times says: "There is probably not another little town in the State that has so many prospects of again becoming a thriving business point as Dayton. For many years—since the Comstock has been so dull—there has been a gradual decline in business here, but now the outlook is more encouraging, and the indications are that it will not be a great while before good times come. There are several reasons for our business men to feel encouraged, among which are the building of new mills on the Carson river, the prospective revival of the Comstock, and the working of the low grade ores on the river, the opening up of the Regent mine in Silver City, and the revival of mining interests in Como. Should the capitalists of San Francisco make their plan of prospecting the Occidental, St. John and other front ledges on the Comstock, succeed, and build large mills at the mouth of the Sutro Tunnel to work the ore, it would go a great way towards making an increase of business in the county, and would again bring Sutro to the front, so that she would once more experience the lively times that were had when there were over 1,000 men at work there. In the next place the indications are good for a mine to be found in Silver City where C. C. Stevenson has a number of men at work on the Regent. In case a body of ore should be discovered it will be worked at his new mill at the Rock Point site, which is nearly completed, and this would also tend to increase the business intrests of both Silver City and this town. Besides there are other prospects in that neighborhood that are very liable to turn out well. And, last, but not least, should the camp of Como come out and be a bullion producer, which there is no doubt it will, there would be business enough around here to suit almost everybody. Dayton would then be the main point from which supplies would be furnished, and would be a better town than Carson was in the palmy days of the big bonanzas on the Comstock. All these prospects are good and there is every reason to have faith that something will come from them at no far distant day. In regard to Como the prospect is brghter than it has been for many a long year. Prospecting enough has been done to really show that the genuine stuff is there, and all that is wanted is responsible men with capital to take hold of some of the claims to make it one of, if not the best camp in the State. There is one company that is doing good work there now, and some very favorable reports are obtained in regard to the looks of the mine, and it will probably be but a short time before others will take an interest in the camp and bring it out all right. Had other camps in Nevada as encouraging an outlook before them, then there would be no doubt in regard to the future welfare of the State."

A Canine Episode.

A few evenings since a woman was seen to throw a large bundle from the bridge into the river, and scud away with all possible haste. The fact was reported next morning to the officers and others, and during the day many passers-by stopped to look down into the water and see the bundle, and speculation was rife as to its contents. Some thought it was a wee little one, the mother of which had sent it to an untimely and watery grave, while others expressed the opinion that it was somebody's pet poodle. After awhile Deputy Sheriff McInnis and Charley Jones grappled the bundle, as well as the problem, dragged it out of the river, and settled the proposition in favor of the dog theory.

The Odd Fellows Building.

It is understood that the Odd Fellows of Truckee Lodge have agreed to surrender their building to the mortgagee, S. F. Gashwiler, of San Francisco, for the cancellation of the $14,000 mortgage held against the property by Gashwiler, and that he, in turn, has ordered the property deeded to H. H. Beck, who takes it subject to a $14,000 mortgage, at six per cent. per annum, $1,000 of the principal to be paid each year for the first four years, the entire principal to be paid at the end of four years. The total rental of the building at present only amounts to $100 per month. The property originally cost $26,000, and is the best building in town.

58 Cents.

The total bills of the Insane Asylum for September amounted to $3,164, of which $, 564 78 was the actual cost for maintainance, The average number of patients for the month was 147. 26, so that the cost per capita was 58 cents per day.

The Fall Trade.

The merchants are all making preparations for the Fall and Winter trade, and those who have recently purchased stocks in San Francisco are now busy in receiving and opening them. The Fall and Winter trade is expected to be good.

NOVELTY AND COMFORT.

A Long Felt Want at Last Supplied by Coleman & Pechner.

Coleman & Pechner have placed in each of their bath rooms a stove, in order to accommodate their patrons and the public generally, with a comfortable room while taking a bath. They have made bathing a luxury in the Winter, by giving their customers a warm room, and everything connected with their barber-shop and bath house has been refitted with an eye single to the comfort of their patrons. Give them a call and convince yourself of the truth. You will find, that for cleanlines, their shop and bath rooms can not be equaled in the State. In connection with the establishment they have a bootblack whose work can not be excelled, and who is never absent from the shop during business hours. *

A Resignation.

Hon. H. L. Fish has tendered his resignation as Assemblyman from Washoe county. This action was rendered necessary because Mr. Fish desired to be re-appointed a Notary Public, his present term expiring to-day, and Governor Garrard (Adams is out in Nye county) thought best that he should resign as a member of the Legislature, and in order to save any question Mr. Fish sent in his resignation, and of course it was accepted by Governor Adams out in Nye county or else Governor Garrard could not have issued the appointment of Notary Public to Mr. Fish. As there will not be an extra session, Mr. Fish is really out nothing by giving in his resignation, while the Notaryship is valuable and convenient to him in his insurance and banking business.

Temperance Lecturers.

The annexed local notice appeared in the Susanville Advocate last Thursday. It will be of interest to the Reno friends of the gentlemen named:

Doctors Waggoner and Bergstein and R. H. Lindsay Esq., of Reno, will lecture to-morrow in the M. E. Church on temperance. All are invited.

[This item was handed in just as we were going to press, and those who were making arrangements for the evening's exercises had not fully decided on the programme, but we venture to say a good one will be prepared.]

Another Good Scheme.

Bob Fulton has been to Virginia City and bought Hank Smith's fine house for $1,200, intending to take it to pieces, remove it to Reno, put it together again, fix it up, and make a nice home for himself. To carry out the scheme will cost about $4,000, which shows the kind of newspaper men Reno fellows are.

Remains Transferred.

W. Sanders, the undertaker, went to Virginia Friday, with the remains of the late Thomas Duane and reinterred them in the Catholic cemetery at that place, and disinterred and brought down from Virginia the remains of Millie Smith, a daughter of A. J. Smith, and reinterred them in the hillside cemetery.
